JOSSELYN FAMILY

Standix Hall

W. H. HURLEY, PROPRIETOR.

ROME, N. Y.

1638613

Dec. 19, 1915.

Dear Mrs. Jay Esq.:-

Since you are interested in the Blackman-Jocelyn chart I made for Mrs.
Blackman and since I have found some additions and corrections, I am enclosing them:-

No 1. -- George Washington Blackman and Harrietta L. Adams were married Apr. 16, 1862, probably at Constantia, Oneida Co., N.Y. a further reference is History of Polk Co. Ia., Union Historical Co., 1880, pp. 954-5. This book has only been in Newberry Library for a very few weeks and may not be numbered yet.
The U. S. Census for Polk Co. Ia., 1880, and for Oneida Co. N.Y. 1860 prove the Adams data.

No 2. Elijah Blackman and Sophia Jocelyn (a Joslin)
are shown in the History of Ashburham, Mass.
E. S. Stronw, 1887, pp. 772-4, and also in family papers. Ashburham - Mass. V.R. also show Sophia Joslin.

ROME, N.Y.

- No. 3. Abijah Joselyn (Joslin) and Kiziah Farrar are also shown in the History of Ashburham, Mass., same page as before. The Locomotives Mass., V.R. show Abijah Joslin. The parentage of Kiziah Farrar is shown by family papers but I expect to have legal proof before long.
- No. 4. John Joslin is shown in the V.R. of Lancaster and Locomotives, Mass. See also N. E. Register, July 1848, pp. 208-9. Lucy Wilder is shown in the V.R. of Lancaster, Mass.
- No. 4. Capt. Peter Joslin is shown in the V.R. of Lancaster and Locomotives, Mass. I think he is the last of this line mentioned in N. E. Register 7/1/27 & seq.
- Josanna Whitcomb is mentioned in the Whitcomb Genealogy - p. 36. or 396. Her birth date is a typographical error on my copy. It should be Nov. 8, 1673/4 not 1734.

you can see how leaving out our figures in a hurry makes so much difference, — 1/6 73/4. That is the only mistake I have found and with all the work I am gratified. I feared there might be more. I never like to hurry genealogical work but when clients insist I try to please them. If you have found any please tell me. The lineage is absolutely correct and has been carefully checked by the historian of the Joslin family who lives here in Rome.

Maybe you have learned that I have secured a great deal of data here for Mr. Blackman. Our lady living some miles away loaned me the manuscript history of one of the families and told me to keep it until I had completed the reanimation. She was a stranger to me and I was to her, and she had never heard of Mr. Blackman, but I got the books anyway. Needless to say, I am taking good care of them.

The enclosed photograph of a letter I just had forwarded to me explains itself. Mr. Serpel can give you more details if you wish them.

I am receiving reports every day or two regarding old and new clients and their letters so you may be sure no one is being neglected, even for a few days. Maybe Mr. Adams has been at Newberry Library and mentioned the fact.

Let me wish you a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year - wishing you success in all your New Year plans.
